Women's Health Institute

Memorial University Medical Center is a 530-bed academic medical center with a Level 1 trauma center. The Women's Health Institute at Memorial University Medical Center includes a 12-bed labor/delivery/recovery area, the regional referral center for high-risk obstetrics, three dedicated operating rooms, a 12-bed high-risk perinatal unit, a 31-bed mother/baby unit and well-baby nursery, childbirth and parenting education services, lactation services, community outreach programs, and cooperation with Memorial's Level III neonatal intensive care nursery.

Perinatal Testing Center

The Perinatal Testing Center at MUMC is one of only six in the state of Georgia and serves as the referral center for all of southeast Georgia. The team in the center includes three perinatologists.

Perinatal Education and Outreach

As the area's only facility for high-risk obstetrics, the Women's Health Institute works to educate the public and healthcare professionals throughout the region. The perinatal outreach team provides education and consultation to a birthing center and 13 hospitals throughout southeast Georgia. Approximately 600 healthcare providers attend Memorial's annual Perinatal Update Conference to learn about the latest techniques in neonatal care.

A Mother's House

"A Mother's House" is an apartment complex located on the Memorial campus in Savannah. Each of the three units can be occupied, free of charge, by a woman with a high-risk pregnancy. The purpose is to provide a safe, homelike atmosphere for women who live outside of Chatham County, but who require weeks or even months of close monitoring during pregnancy. Thanks to A Mother's House, these women do not have to stay in the hospital, but remain close to world-class medical care.
